I- Context

Following a participatory and inclusive process, the Economic Community of West African States (ECOWAS) adopted a common agricultural policy in January 2005, the ECOWAP/CAADP revised in 2015 to the horizon 2025 in accordance with the 2014 Malabo Declaration and the SDGs. Its implementation is based on the coordination of national and regional intervention, through the development of National Agricultural Investment Plans Food and Nutritional Security (NAIPFNS), and a Regional Plan (RAIPFNS).

As part of the implementation of ECOWAP, the project - Improving Governance of Resilience, Food & Nutrition Security and Sustainable Agriculture in West Africa (PAGR-SANAD) has been formulated. It is a regional program for the benefit of intergovernmental organization (ECOWAS, UEMOA and CILSS) and Regional Professional Organizations (RPO), funded by the European Union (EU-ECOWAS-UEMOA Convention). The action mainly aims at improving the governance of FNS and Sustainable Agriculture as well as Resilience in West Africa and the Sahel: 15 West Africa countries and 2 Sahel countries (Chad, Mauritania). It falls under objective 3.1 of the 11th EDF Regional Indicative Program for West Africa.

The overall objective of the project is to strengthen the governance of FNS and Sustainable Agriculture, in order to ensure, in the face of economic and environmental risks, better access to food and better nutritional impact and to strengthen the resilience of vulnerable populations while promoting inclusive economic and social growth.

Since the commencement of the implementation of this project, a lot of effort has been made by the various staff recruited Consultants as well as the staff of DARD to help populate information in terms of use of funds but also results achieved. However, while this project has well defined M&E components including Results Framework, log frame, indicator tables among others, the project does not have a full time M&E Officer to help monitor and track implementation as well prepare reports that will inform decision making.

To this effect and to ensure a more robust monitoring of the project, the Directorate of Agriculture and Rural Development (DARD) responsible for the implementation of the project at ECOWAS Commission intends to use part of the project funding to recruit a Consultant / Food and Nutrition Security (FNS) Expert in charge of FNS policy monitoring.
